Spring 2 - Week 5

Head of School Message

Another busy week of learning has taken place where the children have been completing their assessments. They have all worked incredibly hard and there has been some amazing progress! Next week our Y6 pupils will have their final Mock SATs test before the real thing in May. They doing so well. Keep attending the morning boosters. There will be evening ones after Easter.

Thank you to everyone who entered the Easter colouring competition. It has been an impossible task to choose the winners but they will be announced on Monday. Next week every child in the school will get an Egg! These have been kindly organised by the Friends of Tregolls School.

Next week we will be waving off our Year 5 pupils as they head off to their residential with PGL in Torquay. They have some exciting opportunities ahead of them. We can't wait to see the photos which will be popping up on social media!

Have a lovely weekend and hopefully enjoy some sunshine!
Best wishes, Mr Rees

Free training access

We have recently been signposted to a helpful resource by the Family Support Workers at Cornwall Council, who have recommended it for parents and carers experiencing challenging behaviour at home—particularly violence, aggression, or child-to-parent conflict.

The shared reel (accessible via the QR code) comes from Capa First Response CIC, an organisation that provides specialist, free support for families affected by child-to-parent aggression and harmful behaviours. Capa First Response works nationally and is widely recognised for supporting parents who may feel overwhelmed, isolated or unsure where to turn.

About Capa First Response CIC

Capa First Response offers a range of accessible support options for families, including:

- Weekly online drop-ins, providing immediate advice, connection, and guidance from trained professionals.
- One-to-one tailored support, helping parents understand behaviour patterns, build confidence and use effective relational strategies at home.
- Family forums and peer groups, designed to reduce isolation and help parents learn alongside others experiencing similar challenges.
- Practical resources and podcasts that explain CAPVA and offer strategies for managing difficult moments safely and calmly.

We have been advised that this resource may be particularly useful for families who are:

- struggling with escalating behaviour at home
- experiencing aggression, conflict, or unsafe situations
- seeking a non-judgemental space to get support and guidance
- feeling isolated or unsure where to access help

If you would like support engaging with this resource or need additional guidance, please speak with your Family Support Worker or a member of our team.
